Because of the important role elected officials play in public education, the NEA, UEA and each local/UniServ have Political Action Committees comprised of local educator members. One role of these committees is to recommend candidates they believe are most likely to have a positive impact on public education and issues important to public education employees.

Following is a list of propositions and candidates recommended by national, state and local association political action committees and how each fared in the 2018 General Election (W = won election / L = lost election):
